

ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

A modular bullet resistant safe room constructed of a plurality of panels and having external seam covers connected to selected panels to cover the seam where joined to adjacent panels. Top panels are oriented transverse to the longitudinal direction of the room, and are of the same width as side panels. In this manner the room may be easily 5 lengthened or shortened by adding or removing top and side panels.